AMICA FORTE

The sound of an accordion is often connected to certain emotions and memories. For many, it is associated with social gatherings and folk culture, ultimately providing comfort and contentment. With our Amica forte Series, we enable advanced players to create sonic landscapes with comforting or exhilarating effects. Accordions from the Amica Series are popular with professional musicians due to their smooth playability and voluminous, clean sound, making them perfect for the ambitious player. MORINO+ SERIES

If you are looking for the classic accordion sound, look no further. The Morino+ accordion has shaped the perception of the typical accordion voice like no other. Especially the Morino's cassotto voice is highly influential for what we call "typical accordion."

The Morino+ Series offers the right instrument for advanced and professional players. Whether you are looking for a traditional accordion, a modern approach, or an individually adjusted instrument, whether you play solo or in an orchestra.

Named after the legendary Italian accordion builder Venanzio Morino, the Morino+ Series stands for high quality and decades of engineering expertise.

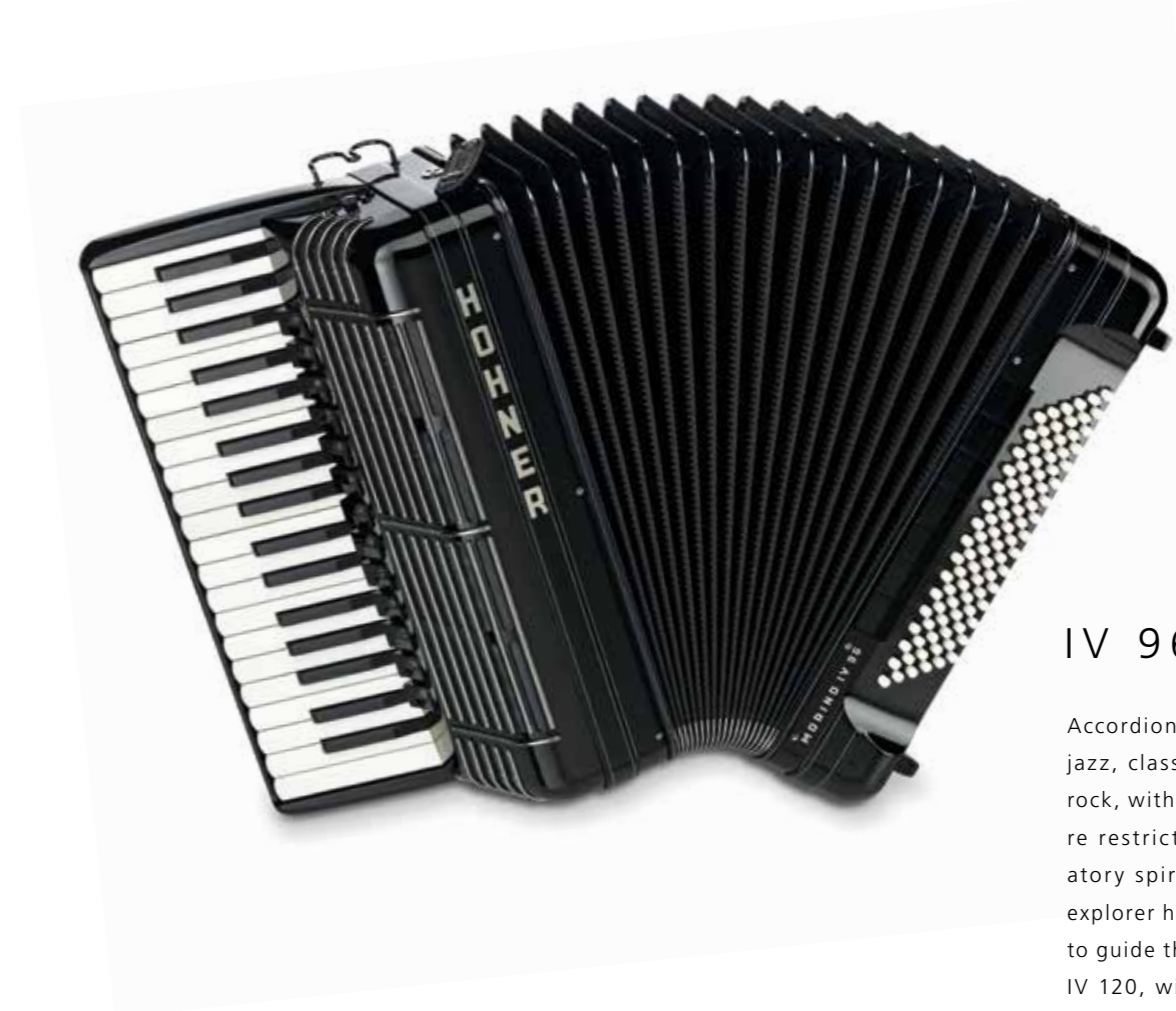

IV 96 DE LUXE

What do the Irish-American Celtic punk band Flogging Molly and the HOHNER Orchestra 1927 have in common? Not their style of music, that's for sure. But both the LA punk rockers and the Trossingen classicists rely on the beautiful sound of our Morino+ IV 96 de luxe to take their audiences on a sonic journey. Its voluminous, rich sound, which is even stronger than that of the Morino+ IV 96, makes the smallest of the Morino+ Series an incredibly versatile on-stage instrument.

V 120 DE LUXE

No instrument is as versatile as the accordion: it is audible in anything from classical music to rock, from pop to folk. It can be used to create incredibly detailed sonic landscapes and intricate musical patterns, or to indulge in vivid acoustic renditions of memories and stories. With the Morino+ V 120 de luxe, you have the perfect companion for these acoustic adventures, both on and off stage, solo, or in an orchestra. The beautiful golden accessories, in combination with the black body, lend an incredibly elegant air. But even the most daring explorer has to rely on something familiar to guide them. Which is why the Morino+ IV 120, with its classic accordion sound known by many, is the perfect companion for your musical endeavors. A reliable friend, it's manufactured to the highest standards for a rich and voluminous sound perfect for solo playing as well as orchestras.

The standard version of the Gola comes with 41 piano keys, four voices, and 120 basses

GOLA

In 1967, The Beatles recorded the Our World TV special for the BBC, the first live television production transmitted via satellite. A picture taken during the rehearsals shows John Lennon playing an accordion. But not just any accordion: he's holding a HOHNER Gola.

A Gola is more than most accordions. Named after Italian accordion builder Giovanni Gola, a true master of his craft, each Gola is a perfect rendition of Giovanni's strive for perfection. It's the instrument of choice for only the most discerning soloists, including numerous world champions, and only top quality materials are used in the making of this masterpiece.

The high standards become apparent immediately when ordering a Gola: to ensure the perfect synergy between player and instrument, the customer is an integral part of the manufacturing process. Each Gola is built exactly to the respective player's specifications, making each one a unique piece of craftsmanship.

The basic model of the Gola Series has 41 piano keys, four voices, and 120 basses.

NOVA SERIES

Especially for smaller players and children, many accordions are uncomfortably big and heavy. But we think that body size shouldn't determine what kind of instruments we can or can't play. Which is why we developed the Nova Series, the smallest button accordions we offer.

The Nova Series allows you to create incredible soundscapes and explore genres as diverse as classical music, jazz, folk, even pop and rock. With their ergonomic button design, you'll automatically have the right playing position. Also, button boards cover a bigger range than similar-sized piano accordions. Although quite small, the accordions from the Nova Series have the typical HOHNER sound and an incredible range – they definitely don't have to hide behind their bigger counterparts! Start exploring!

NOVA I 49 F

In Europe and Russia, free-bass systems are quite popular. Many folk songs are written for free-bass accordions, which allow you to play individual bass melodies instead of predefined bass chords.

The Nova I 49 F is our smallest free-bass system and aimed specifically at children. At a weight of only 4.4 kg, and with an ergonomically shaped button keyboard, the Nova I 49 F is perfect for the smallest accordionists. Start exploring genres like folk, classical music, pop, and rock, or create your own sonic landscapes.

NOVA II 60A

From pop to jazz, from rock to classical music – the accordion is incredibly versatile and can be heard in countless genres. Sometimes even where you wouldn't expect it, for example in heavy metal or blues. In any case, the accordion adds a voluminous and crisp sound to the song, adding an unequalled depth to any genre.

With the Nova II 60A, we offer you an accordion that perfectly fits into any genre. Play it solo, with a band, or in an orchestra, the Nova II 60A surprises with a powerful sound, it is incredibly small – in fact, the smallest HOHNER accordion fitted with a register slide rather than switches, for a smooth adjustment of the voices. Although designed for children, this accordion is actually perfect for beginners of all ages.

NOVA III 96

If you're looking for an accordion with the typical HOHNER sound that is incredibly versatile, yet small and light – look no further. With the Nova II 96, we present to you a beginner's accordion that is specifically designed for smaller accordionists. The familiar HOHNER quality, sound, and look, are shrunk into our smallest three-reed accordion yet. Not just for children, this accordion is a convenient travel companion and perfect for exploration both in the physical world and into soundscapes ranging from jazz to classical music, pop to rock.

Enjoy the Small Things

FUN NOVA II 80 LIGHT

From pop to jazz, from rock to classical music – the accordion is incredibly versatile and can be heard in countless genres. Sometimes even where you wouldn't expect it, for example in heavy metal or blues. In any case, the accordion adds a voluminous and crisp sound to the song, adding an unequalled depth to any genre.

FUN LINE SERIES

The typical accordion sound is generally associated with folk, such as sea shanties, Oberkrain ethnic, polka, waltz, and more. What many wouldn't expect is that the accordion also sounds great in pop, rock, and even punk or death metal! To meet the requirements of these new artists, we drafted the Fun Line Series. Designed by Frédéric Dechamps, the goal was to create an accordion that would have the typical, voluminous HOHNER sound, combined with a new look, ergonomic design, and fast articulation. The result spawned a series that is favored by world-class accordionists of all genres.

The series is audible on recordings ranging from classical music to death metal. But it's not just the sonic qualities that make it so versatile: It's the look, which can be adjusted individually for each musician, making the accordions of the Fun Line Series 100% yours.

FUN FLASH

The Fun Flash manages to combine everything from the epic proportions of classical music to the experimental character of jazz, while adding an exciting new look to it, as well. The voluminous, powerful sound allows you to carry your listeners off into the worlds of orchestra music just as much as into the world of death metal – an acoustic rollercoaster ride just waiting to happen!

Played by artists like Julez Holzmann or Heinz Hox, this accordion is designed for advanced and professional players, and can be heard on recordings of anything from German folk to pagan metal.

FUN TOP

Vast, epic soundscapes, bombastic acoustic adventures, or calm, relaxing sounds. Classical music is incredibly versatile, with countless possibilities for both musician and audience. To understand even the smallest subtleties of each composition, it's best to experience them live – asking for an instrument that combines a crisp, voluminous sound with a low weight and stage-worthy appearance. Like the Fun Top 120, which combines beautiful looks an incredible sound. Let people feel the music!

FUN MUSETTE

When it comes to dancing, the French musette is one of the most exciting musical styles from the European mainland. A mixture of tango, waltz, and polka, it is popular among young people just as much as the older generations, and inspires countless musicians from all genres. The typical tremolo of the Musette asks for a specially tuned accordion, and the vivid rhythms ask for it to be played live. The combination of these requirements resulted in the Fun Musette: Its voluminous, crisp sound, small dimensions, and sturdy design make it the perfect instrument for any stage.

EXPLORE a New World

FUN STAR

When you're on stage, you want to be able to move and react to your audience. Also, you're looking for a warm sound that works both on its own and in combination with a band. That's right where the Fun Star fits in. It was designed with the requirements of an on-stage performance in mind, giving it a low weight and compact construction. Combined with the amazing look and the beautiful, warm sound, this accordion is perfect for ambitious beginners as well as seasoned professionals.

The FUN Starter

FUN PRO

Whether you want to play solo or in a band, are a beginner or more advanced – with the Fun Pro, we've got the right instrument for you! Although called "Pro," it's actually perfect for everyone looking to buy an accordion good for the classroom as well as concerts. It's the perfect companion for years, and thanks to the individual design possibilities, it's one hundred percent yours.

FUN POWER PIANO

Pop and rock are generally best when played loud. Live on stage, so that musicians and fans can interact, connect, and create a unique atmosphere you won't find anywhere else. To meet these requirements of young artists who mainly play live, we had to design an accordion that was durable, reliable, and powerful. The result is the Fun Power Piano, the most powerful accordion of the series! Similarly sized to the Fun Flash, it's fitted with the Amplisound, giving it a deeper, more powerful sound. Perfect for live performances on big stages – but be careful at small shows, you don't want to blow your audience away.

The Powerhouse

DIATONIC ACCORDIONS

We don't know whether the diatonic accordion is a German or Austrian invention. We're also not sure how it came to the Americas, and why it has such an incredible history in Colombia. But then, we don't really care – because what matters is that it spawned several exciting musical styles, ranging from Tex-Mex to Irish folk, from French musette to Colombian vallenato.

What makes the diatonic accordion so interesting is the big tonal range it covers. It has a so-called "single-action keyboard," meaning that each button produces two tones: one for pushing, one for pulling. This means that, even though the range is big, the instrument stays small and light.

This fact made it the perfect folk instrument. But it's not just a folk favorite. It's also quite popular for pop, rock, and even punk, as well!

COMPADRE

The typical HOHNER sound, as crisp and voluminous as we know it – but at an incredible price. The compadre is your best friend for your first steps into the world of norteño, Tex-Mex, and folk punk. Explore the acoustic possibilities of Mexican, Irish, and German folk with this sturdy two-reed accordion designed for beginners and advanced players.

The Latin Beginner

The Vallenato's Best Friend

EL REY DEL VALLENATO

With this beautiful three-reed accordion for beginners and advanced players, we present an instrument specifically designed to meet the requirements of the vallenato musician. Create soundscapes to dance, reminisce, and dream to, and carry your audience off into a world of Colombian folklore, full of passion, love, and betrayal.

The typical HOHNER sound is combined with an exciting, young design in five different colors at an incredible price.

Wooden fingerboard and body
The fingerboard and body are made from wood and covered with colored celluloid for an elegant look

Noise-damped
The buttons are fitted with our special noise-damping technology for fewer unwanted sounds

CORONA II CLASSIC

For generations, HOHNER has defined the sound of the norteño, Tex-Mex, vallenato, and similar Latin American musical styles. The characteristic sound was combined with the typical look and feel of the HOHNER Corona Series. For many, the Corona is a part of their heritage and family history. So we decided to bring back the Corona II in her classic shape, with slight improvements to playability and longevity: the Corona II Classic.

Designed for advanced players and professionals, the typical HOHNER sound creates sonic landscapes ready for exploration and reminiscence. Be carried off into the past and enjoy the sound, look, and feel of a true cult classic.

CORONA SERIES

What happens when slow German polka meets the driving rhythms of Mexican folklore? Well, it spawns one of the most exciting musical genres coming from Central America: Tex-Mex music. Driving rhythms meet catchy melodies, upright bass meets trumpet – and in the middle of it all is the accordion, adding the distinctive sound combining these two cultures.

The typical Tex-Mex, vallenato, and norteño song wouldn't be complete without the distinctive sound of a HOHNER accordion. With four instruments and additional signature models, the Corona Series definitely offers the right instrument – not just in regards to sound and size, but also when it comes to design and color.

CORONA II XTREME

We've all been there: once you've started playing, it's impossible to stop. Especially if your audience keeps on dancing. The atmosphere that is created once audience and musician bond over their shared love of music is indescribable and unique.

Especially for Tex-Mex and norteño, this atmosphere wouldn't be possible without the right accordion. The sound is just as important as the look, and longevity is a must. Which is why we developed the Corona II Xtreme. The typical HOHNER sound is combined with a sturdy construction and beautiful looks, meeting all the requirements a professional player has for an accordion.

*The Powerful
Small One*

EMILIANO ZULETA SIGNATURE

It may almost sound like an empty phrase, but when we say that the accordion is the heart and soul of the vallenato music, we say it because there's no better way to describe it. The unique vallenato sound wouldn't exist if it weren't for the accordion, and it wouldn't be so successful if it weren't for Emiliano Zuleta Díaz, son to the legendary Emiliano Zuleta Baquero, the godfather of vallenato music. Like his father, Emiliano Zuleta is an amazing accordionist who plays the vallenato típico like no other. After more than 40 years of music, over 60 song compositions, and over 50 albums, it was time to honor this incredible man with his very own signature accordion.

The Emiliano Zuleta Signature is based on the popular Corona III model, and offers everything a real vallenato could ask for. The unique design and beautiful sound are rounded off with Emiliano Zuleta's signature printed on every instrument.

CORONA III

The air is full of music, laughter, and people talking – but you'll still hear the characteristic HOHNER sound through it all. Especially if it comes from the Corona III, the biggest of the Corona Series. The crisp, voluminous sound enchants listener and player alike, inviting them to move, dance, and enjoy. A great favorite in vallenato, norteño, and Tex-Mex music, the Corona III is the perfect accordion for professional players who are looking for a powerful and distinctive sound, paired with longevity and good looks.

The Mystic One

MORGANE

Beautiful melodies float through the air, and the succulent green of the land, the fresh, salty air, and the blue skies do the rest: You drift away, enchanted by the beautiful scenery and the dreamy tune. Thanks to the power of music, you were lifted out of your seat carried off to Cornwall, the realm of King Arthur and his men.

With our beautiful Morgane, named after the powerful enchantress from the King Arthur saga, you have the right companion if you wish to explore the world of Gaelic, Breton, and French folk. With its distinct sound and beautiful design, Morgane is the right choice for advanced and professional players.

VIENNA MODEL 2915

Music brings people together. Be it in a group of friends, with family, or to meet new people, a song can quickly pick up the mood and make people join in, dance, and sing. For exactly these situations, we developed our loudest two-row accordion, the Vienna Model 2915.

It's beautiful design, small dimensions, and low weight make it the perfect companion for social gatherings of all kinds. Play a quick sea shanty at the local pub, initiate an English country dance in the park around the corner, or create the right mood around the fireplace with some American folk. The Vienna Model 2915 is the perfect companion for advanced and professional players who want to be able to carry their accordion around without much hassle.

The Folk Hero

Music brings people together. Nothing draws us in as much as music, nothing is as universally understood as song. Making music together is a pastime many enjoy, and gatherings often turn into parties once a song is initiated.

With the Erica, we offer an accordion that is small enough to be easily carried around, making it perfect for those kinds of situations. Be it for some proper old sea shanties at the local pub, a little cumbia session with friends, or some campfire romanticism with American folk songs, Erica is the right companion.

ANACLETO COLLECTION BY HOHNER

Tales of love and betrayal, social injustice, and life itself. vallenato, Tex-Mex, and norteño, just to name a few, are unbelievably diverse both in terms of the topics they address and the underlying rhythms. Fast, rhythmic dance tunes turn into heartbreaking ballads, driven by the distinctive sound of an accordion, interspersed with trumpets, acoustic guitars, and drums. And just as colorful as the topics and their descriptions are the musicians themselves: bright, tasteful suits, highlighted with embroideries and rhinestones, are an integral part of the stage presence.

Both the vividness and the artistic requirements have to be met in the instruments, especially in the accordion used on stage. A clear, crisp sound, reliability, sturdiness, and individual designs are of utmost importance. That's why HOHNER introduced the Anacleto Collection. The accordions of this series are all handcrafted in Italy to the highest quality standards. Decorated to the player's specifications, with wooden bodies and A Mano reed plates, accordions of the Anacleto Collection are built to impress – and to last.

The Anacleto Collection offers both diatonic (Rey del Norte) and piano accordions (Latino).

Feel the PASSION

LATINO II 48

Sometimes, there's a fire between those on stage and those off. The musicians know what the audience wants, and the audience loves them for it – a phenomenon often experienced in the more passionate Southern American musical styles. So the music goes on, people keep dancing, and it gets later and later.

In these kinds of situations, you don't want to be burdened with a big, heavy instrument. You need a small, easy to handle accordion with a crisp, powerful sound and looks to match. That's where the Latino II 48, the smallest of the Latino Series, comes into play.

LATINO III 72

From norteño to vallenato, from Tex-Mex to tango, all have one thing in common: the accordion is the driving force, supporting the rhythm section and supplying the melodies. The accordionist is the heart of the ensemble, and the accordion the star. With our Latin all-rounder, the Latino III 72, we present the biggest of our piano key Anacleto. Three voices and 72 standard basses offer maximum versatility at a low weight, with an incredible sound, perfect looks, and a maximum of quality that you feel, hear, and see.

REY DEL NORTE II

It may be the smallest of the king's series, but that doesn't mean a thing. The Rey Del Norte II is the perfect companion for small parties just as much as big concerts. Thanks to the small size and low weight you can easily transport it, and play it for days. The beautiful look and incredible sound make it the perfect choice for any professional Latin musician looking for a small accordion with a big sound.

REY DEL NORTE III 4

With four button rows, the Rey del Norte III 4 is the biggest of its type and an incredibly versatile accordion. Be it for vallenato, norteño, or Tex-Mex, the additional button row allows for an even more dynamic play, greatly adding to the musician's possibilities. Take your audience on a musical journey with this amazing piece of craftsmanship.
